Great Events at the Show

In addition to exhibits, many events, demonstrations, competitions, test drives, performances, and prize drawings are popular attractions at the show. Each day kicks off with a producer-appreciation event with free coffee and cookies until 10:00am at the east end (lower level) of the River Spirit Expo.

Craig Cameron, renowned natural horse trainer, will provide daily horsemanship seminars and interact with attendees throughout the show. Craig's entertaining and interactive demonstrations have been a Tulsa Farm Show favorite for the past 24 years.

Livestock management is also a key focus of the show and cattle producers can see the new products put to the test in side-by-side demonstrations. More than ten brands of cattle chutes will be demonstrated with live animals and moderated by experienced livestock industry experts. The demos will occur twice daily in the SW corner of the River Spirit Expo, adjacent to the Behlen Country exhibit.

High school students from across the state will compete in the finals of the Livestock Skills Scholarship Competition on Friday morning at 8:00am. Ten three-person teams will compete in practical, real-life cattle handling scenarios and the winning team members will win scholarship dollars and prizes. To date, Midwest Shows Scholarship Program, with key support from American Farmers & Ranchers, has awarded over $100,000 in agricultural scholarships to Oklahoma high school students. A fundraising auction will be held following the competition (around Noon) to raise funds for the scholarship fund and competition.

Country singer, Rusty Rierson, will also be performing daily acoustic music sets each day of the Show. And new this year, trick roper and humorist, Marty Tipton, will be entertaining attendees with daily shows. Set times for both entertainers will be posted on-site and on TulsaFarmShow.com and the show's Facebook page.
